

Love, oh Love

Love, oh Love,
you sweetest thing of all,
no matter how deep I fly,
I always fall.

Fall out and fall into you,
Always hard to get through
The nights with painful desire,
The nights with burning fire.

How should I describe,
The feelings I have inside?
Love, oh Love, I feel so sappy,
But why am I then so unhappy?

Love, oh Love, I love him much,
I am afraid I can never touch
His face again after the half year,
Love, oh Love, my dear.

Help me, I don't know what to do,
I don't know how to go on without you,
Without him, who makes me feel this way,
What else can I say?

I need him by my side,
I feel so lonely in the night,
When he is there,
And I am in the middle of nowhere.

I believe it is meant to be,
So Love, oh Love, I say please,
Stay in my heart and in his,
And let him never forget our last kiss.
