

Smile

Smile

You're like a color in my dreams
I can't describe how it feels
But i am happy when I close my eyes

I wanted to give you something sweet
And see the smile in your face
When you listen to this stupid song

And now you won't believe me when I say
The smile in your Face still makes my day

Please smile

I will tell you something else
Not about Rings or wedding bells
Just something that you should know

When you're crying and you're sad
All the clouds turn up
And this color fades to none at all

And now you won't believe me when I say
The smile in your Face still makes my day

Please smile, just smile

And now you won't believe me when I say
The smile in your Face still makes my day

Please smile, just smile

Oh give me just this one smile

Please... Smile!
