

Life with you swiss chocolate the sun has set so what i still got your hut on my place.

the music you gave me takes my heart into space it's the only thing i got.

the weather is changing i know
wind goes down the road flirting with the ghosts who walk there sad and slowly i feel you through your warm hand we leave our friends and go.

following the moon is never easy but with you on my side it is.
before it was good but now its like the usual drama, refined with some swiss chocolate.

keep in touch through our dreams cause mine are as weird as yours. writing it down seems cruel to me cause words are not made for ... you know and even though i'm tired you understand the nonsense i talk and my crazy kind of dancing and you like it as a blossom that just didn't start yet to bloom following ...

time is running
so i have to go but i know that it's all good for we'll meet again anyway what you once found will never get lost so i hold you in my arms it's just the usual drama, refined with some swiss chocolate
