

a battle

my brain is a soldier, life is a war i don't know what i'm fighting for i'm losing the battle and losing my mind all of me is left behind my brain is filled my feelings are lost please just tell me what to do i'll pay everything that it will cost just to kind of get me through my brain is pain

my heart apart

if my thoughts were drops then i would drown they're building an ocean and pulling me down i can't find an island there is just a sea
i can't deal
what's inside of me
