

language of love

The language of love

by Frank Schumacher

You are so far from me so I sent you a message by a bird but the bird came back, because he doesn't speak Russia so I train my bird speaking the language of love.
I hope my bird will find you, because you speaking the language of love without an accent Maybe you will keep my bird with you and learn him to speak the language of love more fluently so when he is coming back to Germany he could also learn me to speak the language of love more perfekt
And maybe in the future when we really meet each other somewhere on this planet we both can speak the language of love and we understand each other quite well And when we are staying together, we will teach many birds the language of love And later this birds will send our messages of love to the world
After a few years people will use just one language the language of love.

©

Diese PDF wurde erstellt durch das Schreiber Netzwerk