

The heart wants what it wants

There is something inside me
Which wants to escape, wants to be set free
Something powerful, electric and intense
Something like a sixth sense
Something which directly leads to you
Making me feel crazy, blue

But I am afraid to follow
My heart already is a hollow
So why am I reading -written in different fonts-
"The heart wants what it wants"
