

Cold inside

I'm walking down a lonely road/
To a silent place in a empty town/
I'm walking through the night/
With darkness and not one light/
The moon isn't shining/
There are no stars at the sky/
I walk alone with nobody by my side/
But there's a good thing at this situation/
I must not wearing a smile/
To hide the pain from the inside/

It's cold inside/
My heart is frozen/
The mind is broken/
But i'm trying to hide/
That i'm smiling outside/
And i'm screaming/
On the inside/

I know, i'm lying every day/
With the smile i faked/
Just to hide the pain/
'Cause smiling is so much easier than/
Explaining why i'm sad/
I'm fighting a battle/
It's a war against myself/
On a battleground in my brain/
And in the silence i hear it well/
My soul is screaming loud for help/

It's cold inside/
My heart is frozen/
The mind is broken/
But i'm trying to hide/
That i'm smiling outside/
And i'm screaming/
On the inside/

But i have learned one thing/

That everyone is fighting/
A battle with his demons/
And we know nothing/
'Cause they're keep smiling/
To hide the pain from the inside/

It's cold inside/
The hearts are frozen/
The mind is broken/
But they're trying to hide/
That they're smiling outside/
And they're screaming/
On the inside
